

IT WAS ROOSEVELT.

Acting as Roundman He Caught a Bluecoat Smoking.

Flip-Flap Trick Did Not Deceive the Commissioner.

New Thomas Murphy Must Meet Formal Charges.

Policeman Thomas Murphy, of the East Fifty-first street station, has smoked a pipe close to Roundman Roosevelt, but it wasn't a pipe of peace, as Murphy must confess.

The Orator-Commissioner was returning home from the Mission to East Twenty-third street, early this morning. At Madison avenue and Fifty-first street, he saw a bluecoat comfortably seated on the curbstone in the glare of an electric light, calmly drawing at something which resembled a cigar.

Commissioner Roosevelt revealed his teeth as he dilated the focus of his eyes and peered through his spectacles at the unusual spectacle.

"Can I believe my glasses," murmured President Roosevelt, "is a policeman and his cigar smoking?"

The Commissioner trudged across the avenue and faced the "copper," who was not in the least perturbed, and continued to blow a filmy cloud through his mustache. One of his hands was behind his back.

"What are you doing sitting there?" demanded the Commissioner amazed at the man's indifference.

"Sittin'," was the laconic response, with a blink of the eyes.

The Roundman-Commissioner gasped with amazement.

"I'm sittin', can't ye see? What's to ye, anyway?" was the clinching remark on the part of the policeman.

"This will cost you ten days. Out a day less for that smoke."

The slow copper had a surburst of realization just then, and looked at the Commissioner. Then he got up and leaned against a pole, one hand still behind him.

"What have you got in your hand?" demanded the Commissioner.

"Nuttin'," said the blue coat, thrusting his left hand behind him and exposing the empty right hand to the Commissioner.

"What's in the left hand?" asked the Commissioner, between smile and a sneer, remembering his school-day pranks.

"Nuttin', sir," the officer said doing the shrugging act again.

"Well, my man, you were smoking."

"I was not, honest, Mr. Commissioner," and then both hands were exposed for critical examination.

"I want you to see me at Police Headquarters at 10 o'clock without fail," was the reply from the Commissioner, as he went home.

This morning Murphy did appear, and admitted he had been smoking, but it was only a pipe which he resorted to for an aching tooth.

"It did doze terrible, Commissioner, but I won't do it again," said Murphy, who denied he was sitting on the curbstone. President Roosevelt saw him, however, and trial is awaiting the delinquent.

MAYOR STRONG HIS FRIEND.

But Freistadt's Barkeeper Was Held for Trial.

Policemen Gargan and Taggart, of the Leonard street police station, yesterday arrested Charles Heppon, of 240 East Twenty-fourth street, a bartender for Holtz & Freistadt's restaurant and saloon at the new place, 365 Broadway, for selling beer without a license.

Holtz & Freistadt had a restaurant formerly at 329 Broadway, but were turned out about nine months ago. When they moved their new place they applied to the Excise Board for a transfer of license. When Heppon was arraigned in court yesterday Mr. Freistadt told Magistrate Crane of the application for a transfer and the Magistrate discharged Heppon, but told Gargan to investigate the case at the Excise Board.

Excise Commissioners Murray and Harburger told Gargan they should not grant the transfer, as the new place adjoined the restaurant and saloon of Holtz & Freistadt, who was long established, and it was against the policy of the Board to have two places of a similar nature adjoining.

Gargan told Freistadt, and Freistadt said: "Well, do you mind, I ordered a glass of beer. Heppon, under instructions, refused to accept money. Gargan arrested Heppon. Mr. Freistadt said:

"You are a fool to arrest that man. Mayor Strong is my friend and Judge Jerome dines with me."

In the Courtroom today Magistrate Crane held Heppon in $100 for Special Sessions.

HIS VICTIM'S BODY FOUND.

A Michigan Forged Deed Case Grows Into One of Murder.

DUNDEE, Mich., Sept. 6.—A case which was brought against Ed Larkins for forging the name of Jane Merrill, colored, to a quit claim of some property which is held by Larkins, was made clear to-day by the finding of the body of Mrs. Merrill, whom it was supposed that Larkins had murdered in order to obtain her interest in the property.

Mrs. Merrill came to the Larkins farm two years ago and lived there until June of last, when she mysteriously disappeared. Early this Spring Ed Larkins' father died suddenly, leaving to his son possession of the farm, the father and Jane Merrill having had a life lease of the property.

Trouble ensued between Ed Larkins and the woman. After the latter's disappearance a quit claim to the property was found, ostensibly signed by Mrs. Merrill. Larkins was arrested for forging the name of Jane Merrill, colored, to a quit claim of some property which is held by Larkins, was made clear to-day by the finding of the body of Mrs. Merrill, whom it was supposed that Larkins had murdered in order to obtain her interest in the property.

The bones, teeth, portions of the body and also some personal effects of the woman had withstood the flames. Larkins was arrested at 10 o'clock without fail, and is much in fear of lynching. The sentiment of the neighbors is strongly against the prisoner.

42 Years in Prison, Now He Escapes.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 6.—George Blackburn, one of the best-known criminals in Ohio, who has been in the penitentiary almost continuously since 1853, escaped from the penitentiary yesterday. His prison suit was found on the bank of the Sanito River among the weeds. He was a trusty.

TOUGH AT THIRTEEN.

Little William Goldstein Arrested Twice for Burglary.

Escaped from the Juvenile Asylum and Denied Identity.

Faced Teachers and Society Agents Without Flinching.

For a thirteen-year-old lad, the police say William Goldstein, or Goldstein, has a dark record.

William was arrested on March 15 on a charge of burglary. He was committed in the Court of Special Sessions to the Juvenile Asylum. William escaped in April, after one month's stay in the asylum.

On July 15 William was arrested on a charge of burglary, but was discharged for lack of evidence. He was arrested for the third time yesterday by Patrolman Schwarz, of the Eldridge street station, on complaint of an official of the Juvenile Asylum. William was pointed out by Robert Brown, thirteen years old, an inmate of the asylum.

In court to-day William said his family name was Goldstein.

He denied having been in the asylum, and this, too, in the presence of the Brown tree boy and Miss Cora A. Damon, in whose class he was in the institution.

He told a plausible tale of how he attended the Pike street primary school and later the Allen street school. Magistrate Deuel failed to shake his statement. The boy eyed Miss Damon, the Brown tree boy and Jerry Society officials, to all of whom he was well known, without a tremor.

"Willie, you are the most wonderful little story-teller I ever met," was Magistrate Deuel's comment as he recommitted him to the Juvenile Asylum. It was not till then that William broke down, and he was taken out of court sobbing.

$150,000 CHURCH BURNED.

Minneapolis House of Worship Fired by an Incendiary.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 6.—Westminster Church, a handsome brown-stone structure, at Nicollet avenue and Seventh street, in the heart of the retail business portion, was gutted by fire early this morning.

There was a high wind blowing, and as the fire broke out in a tower on the lofty roof the Fire Department worked at a heavy disadvantage. Nothing is now standing but the heavy walls. The building was erected fifteen years ago at a cost of $150,000.

Rain Checks Jersey Forest Fire.

MAY'S LANDING, N. J., Sept. 6.—This section of South Jersey was visited by a heavy rainfall last night, and this helped more than anything else to check the progress of the forest fire. The farmers and helpers worked hard and the same in this vicinity were subdued. May's Landing had a very narrow escape. At one time yesterday the fire was over a mile wide and came to within half a mile of May's Landing. Proper. Numerous cranberry bogs and over 1,000 acres of timber in the vicinity of Egg Harbor City have been destroyed by the fire.

AGAIN BEHIND THE BARS.

"Red" McKenna, When Arrested, Gave the Detectives a Tussle.

The police have under arrest George Ramsey, alias "Red" McKenna, whose occupation is a plumber, and his home in Rochester. On June 6 he knocked down and robbed Owen A. Keegan, a liquor dealer, at 66 Oak avenue, and robbed him of a watch and chain. The robbery took place at Sixteenth street and Ninth avenue. Ramsey was taken to the West Thirtieth street station-house, where he was handcuffed.

The detectives then started for Police Headquarters, but at Broadway and Third street Ramsey threw himself down in the street and refused to go any further. A great crowd collected, and the detectives summoned a patrol wagon, in which, after a terrific struggle, Ramsey was taken to Police Headquarters.

Ramsey was taken to Police Headquarters, where he was handcuffed.

An ambulance was summoned from the Hudson Street Hospital, whither he was removed after a cursory examination by the surgeon. One of his legs was broken, and it was thought that the bones of the other were splintered. Both arms were badly lacerated. It is thought he will recover.

FOUR SHARE THE REWARD.

Finding Inman's Body Brings a Check for $550.

Lawyer Day, representing the firm of Inman, Swann & Co., to-day sent a check for $550 to Coroner Schaeffer, of Stapleton, S. I., to be paid to the person who discovered the body of Robert Inman, who was killed by a train.

Coroner Schaeffer was compelled to adjourn the inquest last night until Sept. 28, on account of the absence of important witnesses, the persons who were on board of the yacht Adelaide at the time of the collision with the Iron steamboat Perseus, when Mr. Inman was drowned.

WESTCHESTER'S APPEAL.

Argument to Be Heard Sept. 17 by the Court of Appeals.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 6.—The Court of Appeals has issued the following: "Ordered, That the Court of Appeals convene at the Capitol in the city of Albany, on Tuesday, Sept. 17, 1895, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to hear appeals pending in cases arising under chapter 804 of the Laws of 1888, involving an apportionment in the county of Westchester and the city and county of New York."

(Signed) "CHARLES ANDREWS, Chief Judge."

This is the first extraordinary term of the Court of Appeals since the famous Columbia County ballot case was heard. The cases to be heard are appeals from the decision of the Supreme Court in the denying of the application of Augustus M. Field for a mandamus to compel the Board of Aldermen to reconvene and reappoint the Assembly districts of New York County so as to include the annexed parts of Westchester County and a second affirming the constitutionality of the Westchester-New York Annexation act, passed by the last Legislature, and which went into effect June 6.

Train Robber Bill Williams Caught.

LEADVILLE, Col., Sept. 6.—Bill Williams, alias Lloyd Mayne, alias John McMahon, one of the most noted desperadoes in the West, has been arrested and has in jail here. Last winter, with two others, he robbed the Wells Fargo Express Company at Crystal Lake, N. Y., for $20,000. The other two men were captured three months ago, but Williams escaped. Last night he came to town, Denver, and was arrested. There is a big reward for his capture. Williams was loaded down with cartridges and revolvers. He also had considerable money with him.

Guns for Street-Car Conductors.

GLoucester, Mass., Sept. 6.—The directors of the Gloucester, Essex and Beverly street railway have ordered their conductors to arm themselves with revolvers. It is feared that highwaymen may attempt to hold up the company's cars late at night in some of the lonely spots along the line.
